THE PALACE,
BANGALORE.

15th March 1921.

My dear Mr. Chakravarti,

Knowing the interest which you have always felt and the active part which you took in regard to the questions referred to in the enclosed papers, His Highness desires me to forward them to you and to say that he will be obliged if you can give him any advice in the matter. In any case, you will be interested to see what stage these two questions have now reached. As a brilliant Mathematician, you will doubtless be able to solve this rather abstruse problem set us by the Political Department. An early reply will be much appreciated.

Yours sincerely,

M
